

Joel L. Cohen, MD Board-Certified Dermatologist and Fellowship-Trained in Lasers, Aesthetics and Laser Resurfacing, is honored to have been voted one of Denver's Top Doctors for the 10th time. For over two decades, Dr. Cohen has cultivated a distinguished career marked by significant contributions to the field of aesthetics and Laser Resurfacing.

Upon earning his MD with honors from the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York, Dr. Cohen went on to complete a dermatology residency as well as a fellowship in laser surgery, aesthetic dermatology and Mohs surgery with world renowned experts.

Dr. Cohen has co-authored 3 academic textbooks, published over 310 scientific articles and been an investigator in over 100 clinical trials for ground-breaking technologies. He has been the recipient of numerous awards including the American Society of Dermatologic Surgery Public Service, Mentorship, and Patient Safety Hero awards. He has also received the Melanoma Research Foundation Humanitarian of the Year.

In addition to his work as a clinician and researcher, Dr. Cohen lectures at over 20 national or international aesthetic meetings each year. His leadership is globally recognized, as demonstrated by his regular media appearances and his work spearheading worldwide initiatives on fillers and lasers. He serves in numerous educational roles, including as an Associate Professor at the University of California Irvine—where he was recently voted "Faculty of the Year."

Above all, Dr. Cohen emphasizes that aesthetic dermatology and skin cancer are lifelong commitments to service. Whether he is treating patients or training the next generation of physicians, Dr. Cohen is driven by passion for his craft and his core values of integrity, innovation and excellence.
